
CAMOSUN WRITEPLACER

Passage

We should start without any fixed idea where we are going to spend the night, or when we propose to come back; the journey is everything. Most necessary of all, but rarest good fortune, we should try to find before we start some man of our own sort who will go with us and to whom we can say the first thing that comes into our heads. For pleasure has no relish unless we share it.

Assignment

Is it better to plan a journey with a set destination, or to just let it occur, without advance preparation?

Plan and write a multi-paragraph essay (450-600 words) in which you develop your point of view on the above question. Support your position with reasoning and examples taken from your reading, studies, experience, or observations.
